

ECONOMICS
(specialty 08.00.05)

Makrusev V.V., Mesyats M.A. Integrative model of customs management in Russia: main trends and peculiarities of formation Modernization of the customs affairs as a specific institution is a goal of the modern economical policy, stated by the Russian President. It is a philosophy “control as a service” that can increase efficiency in regulation of external-economic activities and form stable positive environment for foreign trade. The article reveals integration principles and development mechanism in State customs affair. Authors take complex developmental approach as basis. To develop it they underline objective complication in customs management. To clarify the material the authors use diagrams that disclose basic ideas.

Key words: modernization, customs affairs, customs management, integration principles, methodologies of management.

Russian

customs academy

August, 12, 2011
