

PHILOSOPHY
(specialty 09.00.08)

Kalinina N.A. Education humanization: philosophic aspect

It is considered the principle of humanization of modern education. It is presented the basis of the humanist outlook on the idea of man as the highest value, the necessity of humanization of education in today's changing society. It is given the definition of the key concepts of the humanistic philosophy of education (humanism, humanism, humanity). It is carried out historical and philosophical analysis of ideas of humanism and analyzed the relations between the concepts of humanization and humanization of education. It is stated that generalized characteristic of ideas can provide humanistic philosophy of education. It is identified and disclosed the purpose of humanization of education. Particular attention is paid to the investigation of personal and professional qualities of the teacher.

Key word: humanism, humanity, education, humane education, humanization of education, educational philosophy, the principle of education.

South-Russian state university of economics and service

July, 11, 2011
