

LAW
(specialty 12.00.01)

Sulygova L.Z. Autocracy, Orthodoxy and nationality in Russian state-and-law doctrine

It is considered both positive and negative sides of mutual interaction of the state doctrine and the theory of official publicity through the viewpoint of investigations in national history-and-law sciences and political-and-state studies. In national law idea it was rather important to pay attention to the investigations of researchers and their philosophic ideas. Within this area the theory of state, orthodox and publicity is not static but developing study necessary for historial viewpoint.

Key words: state, orthodoxy, publicity, law historiography, law-and-political idea, state doctrine, philosophic study, theology.

Southern federal university

January, 16, 2012
