

LAW
(specialty 12.00.01)

Elyutin P.V. Historical and law research of criminal law in Russia

It is considered the research on the history of criminal law in national legal and historical sciences. Research can provide pre-Soviet aristocratic and bourgeois historiography, the Soviet period, research and splitting into periods and the modern historiography of the problem. Systematics of historiographical knowledge permit to identify the most promising areas of study subject. As the study is based on aspects of the social sciences, it can be of interest not only for lawyers, but also philosophers, sociologists, political scientists and historians.

Key words: historiography, legal idea, criminal law, punishment system, types of crimes, research periods.

Southern

federal university

March, 27, 2012
