

LAW
(specialty 12.00.01)

Ponomarenko E.V. Methodology and methodics of female crime research in national law historiography

It is considered investigations of female crime, from the perspective of research on criminal law, as well as legal historiography. This methodological approach allows to combine the positive aspects of not only legal, but also other social sciences, and mass media. Therefore, it can be identified not only the statistics of female crime, but also its biosocial nature through the prism of the history of the phenomenon.

Key words: female crime, research methodics, methodology, historiography, political and law idea, crime science, social psychology, mass media.

Don law institute

April, 17, 2012

---