

PEDAGOGY
(specialty 13.00.01)

Chebykina N.A. Scientific approaches in the management of pre-school education establishment

The article deals with theoretical and methodological foundations of governance in the education system. There are characteristics of the concepts of «governance», «management». There is a description of different approaches in management theory to its content of foreign and domestic scientists; the scientific problems of educational management are revealed; indicated by studies on the problems of development management and pre-school educational institution. The author gives an overview of effective approaches to managing the development of modern pre-school institution for efficiency, quality of work of the institution, its competitiveness in the educational market.

Key words: management education, management, manager, approaches in the theory of scientific management, management functions, innovative development, effective technology preschool, education quality, competitive institutions.

Southern

federal university

August, 12, 2012
