

ECONOMICS
(specialty 08.00.05)

Vlasov A.V. Reform of a pension system and demographic problem

Influence of pension system on a demographic situation is analyzed. Absence of communication between the right to receive pension and quantity of children is the main reason of a worsening demographic situation in Russia and the developed countries. The decision of the given problem is deep reforming of principles of provision of pensions on the basis of principles of transit pension system.

Keywords: distributive pension system, transit pension system, pension, level of pensions, demographic recession, birth rate decrease.

Russian academy of economics and state service

of the Russian President

October, 23, 2012
