

PEDAGOGY

specialty 13.00.01

Shabalin O.A. Anti religious upbringing on the USSR territory in 1930-1980s

In article atheistic propagation during the Soviet period and its role in rising generation education on an extent 50-year-old the periods in the history of the USSR is considered. On an example of activity of the League of Militant Atheists key principles of antireligious propagation and the techniques applied in education of rising generation in 1930th when the first generation which has grown exclusively on the Soviet values was generated are analyzed. On an example of natural-science propagation basic methods of antireligious education during post-war time, and also degree of influence of propaganda methods for rising generation are shown. The model and the basic means used at education of youth and as the education quality indicator in time process is analyzed is investigated. Research by consideration of antireligious propagation in educational institutions in second half 80th XX century comes to the end When the majority of key principles of construction of a socialist society have lost the value. Thus, in article the key periods of history of the USSR and degree of efficiency and productivity of propaganda techniques during the various time periods are traced.

Keywords: Russian Orthodox Church, League Of Militant Atheists, antireligious propaganda, natural-science propaganda, religious devotions.

Nizhniy Novgorod state

architectural-engineering university

October, 23, 2012

---