Tarasov O.Ju. History of toponymic development of the Upper Amur: stages of cultural and economic settlement in geographical names

It is considered the formation of «toponymic portrait» of the Upper Amur region from the perspective of the history of development of the region that is a poorly studied aspect of the interaction of cultural and geographical space areas of late arrival. The paper presents the development stages of the western part of the toponymy of the Far East of Russia and brings unique examples of geographical names.

Key words: cultural and geographical area of late settlement areas, the history of the formation of regional toponymy.
