

LAW
(specialty 12.00.01)

Boyko Yu.P. Problems of national integrity in the realization of modern government functions

The article focuses on the role of the national factor in the development of statehood in the context of current forecasts of the crisis and disintegration of nation states. It discusses some theoretical approaches to the interaction of the nation and the state of domestic and foreign researchers. The theoretical views, devoted to the study of the problem using different approaches from economic to psychological. The paper shows that the problem is political and legal emphasis and related to issues of state regulation of national relations as national self-determination, a combination of national and state interests, the equality of nations, national-territorial structure, creating the conditions for the free development of national languages and national cultures. The consequences of global processes, reflected in such issues as ethnic nationalism, separatism, terrorism and others undermine the political stability of states and determine the need to change the approach to government regulation of social relations between different national communities and ethnic groups in the various spheres of life.

Keywords: nation, state, national harmony, government regulation.

Diplomatic academy

of Foreign Affairs Ministry of Russia

April, 15, 2013
