

PEDAGOGICS
(specialty 13.00.01)

Boulycheva E.S. Model of pedagogical support of the family in drug addiction prevention measures

The article describes the structural-functional model of pedagogical family support in prevention of adolescent drug addiction. The urgency of developing among adolescents due to the persistent need to create an effective system of prevention of substance abuse among adolescents is on the level of "family-school", to meet the needs of modern society and the state in a healthy generation and execution, thus, the social order. The aim of the study is to develop a pedagogical model of family support in drug prevention. The article considers the theoretical-methodological foundations and the basic structural components. It describes the target, substantial, procedural and technological evaluation and control units of the model.

Key words: pedagogical model, pedagogical family support, prevention of adolescent drug addiction.

Shadrynsk state

pedagogical institute

April, 10, 2013

---