

LAW
(specialty 12.00.01)

Beznisenko M.O. Criminal-and-law characteristics of terrorism

In this article the problem of criminal characteristics of terrorism, the objective and subjective elements of crime, the state, the dynamics and the geography of terrorism has been analyzed and revealed. The author highlights importance of the features of detects and prevents of terrorist acts. The threat of terrorism is an urgent problem in Russia, in this regard, the concept of national security was adopted. The modern terrorism has many different causes and manifestations, consequently many of these symptoms depend on the cultural traditions, social structure and other characteristics of different countries.

Key words: problem of criminal characteristics of terrorism, prevention of terrorist acts, destabilization of situation, national security, consciousness, law.

Russian law academy of

Department of justice of Russian Federation. Moscow, Russia

July, 12, 2013
