

PHILOSOPHY
(specialty 09.00.13)

Vorozhko Yu.N. Features of personal self-realization in post-modernism

Self-realization in postmodern culture – the process of implementing one's own "I" in terms of total pluralism meanings of life realization styles, rules and principles of pluralism, interpretations and ways of life assessment. Identifying features of self-identity in postmodern culture means setting its essential principles in the context of culture philosophic analysis. It is considered the features of self-identity in postmodern culture: in terms of value-semantic pluralism, virtuality, art, also it is identified gender and age characteristics of self-realization in postmodernity.

Key words: self-realization, post-modernism, personality, post-modern culture, features of personal self-realization.

North-Caucasus scientific center of HS.

Southern federal university, Rostov-on-Don, Russia

December, 16, 2013
