

PHILOSOPHY

Meskhi B.Ch., Nesmeyanov E.E.

(Don state technical university. Rostov-on-Don, Russia)

Theology and false science: what really destroys national education

Modern world of social and human sciences assumes familiarity of education of a person with basic theological knowledge. Without theoretical base, including the basics of theology, it is impossible to study the emergence of any one area of the social sciences and human. Confessional theological knowledge does not mean the benefits of one religion over others. Developed national standard for theology is confessional in nature. It has been the basis for the opening of a speciality "Theology" in the state qualifier.

Key words: national education, spiritual culture, theology, man, society.

August, 19, 2014
