

LINGUISTICS

S.G. Agapova

(Southern federal university. Rostov-on-Don, Russia)

Dialogical speech issues: linguapragmatic aspect

Semantics, pragmatics and syntactics form an integral unity, the linking element is the general property of the language, subjectivity. The center of subjectivity in the language – the category of the subject, which is regarded as the central category of contemporary pragmatics. Pragmatic component neutralizes communicating impersonal language structures and communication allows participants to appeal to those structures that are most appropriate given communicative situation. Semantics manifests relative signs to what they stand for, syntactics explores formal links between linguistic signs, pragmatics - the ratio of the sender to the signs. Encoding and decoding of semantic component in the framework of the dialogue speech due pragmatically, as it implies a reference to the speaker or hearer as the main components of pragmatic speech act, their mental and social spheres.

Key words: semantic, syntactic, pragmatics, subjectivity, communication, dialogic unity implicit meaning.

---

October, 10, 2014