Europiazation of Russia and problem of conservation of its national sovereignty in Eurasian people's view

Considering the problem of trade and in general the relationship between Western countries and States around the world, including Russia, Eurasians noted that there is a desire for dictatorship and subjugation by Western countries. The level of civilization of the people, and in general of the state are defined on the West by the presence of its commitment to a market economy and liberal values. Instead of the interaction of various types of culture there are attempts of distribution and plantations of the West-governmental forms of economic and political life on the rest of the world. Any deviations from accepted stereotypes and the evaluation criteria are considered as a threat to the civilized community that creates a real danger for humanity. In this regard, it is especially important warnings of Eurasians about the inevitable negative consequences of bourgeon process and "Westernization" of Russia not only for itself but also for the West.

Key words: civilization, Eurasianism, sovereignty, self-centeredness, westernisation, national revival, superethnos.
