Existential and world outlook features of sexual maniac formation

People that in our time are called sex maniacs have always existed and are likely to exist. The analysis of the existential and philosophical aspects of human life, which can lead to becoming a sexual maniac are considered. When there is no spiritual potential and the ability to capture reality in all its diversity, the person becomes a maniac and lives in a mythological world. The way out of the situation of existential pain, alienation and fear he sees in the creation of his own space – the space of thought and action, where there is a radical reassessment of human values.

Key words: pain, violence, mania, maniac, loneliness, alienation, fear, transcendence.
