Space-temporary continuum: pragmalinguistic aspect

In the article the attention is paid to the fact that the language picture of the person's world is built in such a way that time and space are its central axes. The organization of time and space in the structure of the text is one of the most important factors of creation of literary work, therefore in creation of the text the use of a chronotope is also important. Such interest in research of a phenomenon of a chronotope as method of the philological analysis of the text is caused by the fact that time along with space is one of the main forms of existence of our world, it defines all stages of life.

Key words: time, space, chronotope, philological analysis, language picture of the world, interpretation.
