

PEDAGOGY

M. Krinitskaya (Vladivostok state university of economy and service (VSUES). Vladivostok, Russia)

Project method at Russian lesson as foreign

It is described in detail the application of the project method at Russian lessons in foreign audience. This interactive method gives opportunity to gain knowledge of Russian and Russian culture in the course of the solution of practical tasks. The project method allows to apply language material creatively, and also it gives the chance to make Russian lesson as foreign as a discussion or a separate research in a certain subject. Research and communicative abilities, managerial and presentation skills, and also skills of team work are created in the course of project activities. The prepared through the use of a project method classes attract huge interest of foreign audience. These classes stimulate interest in studying of Russian, deepen student's skills in mastering the Russian speech activities. Mastering oral speech competence on Russian is the result of data acquisition of knowledge.

Key words: project method, Russian as foreign, method of education, research, learning efficiency, communicative activity, oral speech competence.

---

September, 28, 2016