

PEDAGOGY

Vera D. Ponomareva

(Russian customs academy, Rostov branch. Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation)

Formation of general-professional and professional competencies in the students' groups of specialty 38.05.02 "Customs business"

It is considered the methodology of developing professional skills of the students studying Customs business at the foreign languages lessons. The need for competence-based approach is determined by specifying the purpose and result of the foreign language training in non-linguistic higher school as a condition of the quality improvement of professional training. The attention focuses on the need to use different methods and technologies in the process of teaching foreign languages, for example, the method of modeling speech activity professional situations, the importance also stresses on the active practice of the using audiovisual aids including video material.

Key words: professional competence (skills), communicative competence, Customs officials, types of speech activity, authentic video material; process of teaching foreign languages.

June 15, 2017
