To the question of civil and patriotic upbringing of Russian and foreign students, studying together

In the annual address to the Federal Assembly, President of the Russian Federation Vladimir Putin noted that Russia's strength lies in the free development of all peoples, in diversity, harmony and cultures, languages and traditions, mutual respect, dialogue between Orthodox and Muslims, followers of Judaism and Buddhism. In the fight against terrorism, Russia demonstrated its utmost responsibility and leadership. These decisive actions are supported by Russian society. And in this absolutely definite position of our citizens there is a deep understanding of the total threat of terrorism, the manifestation of true patriotic feelings and high moral qualities, the conviction that national interests, our history, traditions, our values need to be protected.

Key words: free development of all peoples, harmony of cultures, languages, traditions, civil-patriotic education.
