Work with normative-legal acts as a means of formation of value attitude of senior pupils to the legal norms

In modern society the problem of respect of the person and citizen for the system of the national law is particularly acute enough. In many respects, fostering patriotism in each individual and formation of true civil society depends on its decision. For this reason it is necessary to solve this problem, since the period of an average and the advanced school age (the teenage and youthful periods). The author considers work with standard legal acts at law lessons as means of formation of the valuable attitude of seniors towards precepts of law. It is offered to correlate each legal act with defined values center, which it embodies.

Key words: normative legal acts, value attitude to legal norms, value centers, legal culture, legal training.
