Methodological paradigms of the philosophical text study

It is considered the problem of philosophical text as a key component of modern research in the field of the Humanities study. It is described the main methodological approaches to the study of the philosophical text. The most relevant research paradigms are: hermeneutic procedures of understanding, semiotic analysis of the text structure, as well as the methodology of topological analysis. The potential of hermeneutics is associated with the need to understand the text, as well as work on clarifying philosophical concepts. Semiotics focuses on the boundaries of the text, and the semiotic paradigm allows to classify texts according to the scale of their formalization. The methodology of topological analysis of the philosophical text allows to determine the place of philosophical discourse in the philosophical tradition, cultural situation and Humanities. The conclusion is made about the prospects of topological analysis for the study of philosophical text, because it allows to use the entire arsenal of modern means of studying the text.

Key words: philosophical text, topological analytics, semiotics, hermeneutics, methodology, Humanities.
