

PHILOLOGY

Lyudmila M. Zholos, Marina S. Shevchenko

(Southern federal university; Rostov law institute of Russian Ministry of Inner Affairs. Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation)

Peculiarities of official business translation

It is considered the features of the translation of official business communication, which should be taken into account not only by the communicants of business discourse, but also by translators of this type of communication. The main features of the texts of business discourse on the material of letters of business economic orientation are considered. The presented examples and methods of their translation clearly show what difficulties may arise when translating texts of official business communication and how to avoid conflict situations in the process of intercultural communication and translation of texts of business discourse of various cultures.

Key words: business documentation, translation of official business documentation, discourse, business correspondence, intercultural communication.

November 15, 2019

---