"Digital natives" in the new communication space

The article examines the problematic features of people born after 1980, the so-called "digital natives", presents a competence model designed to show the areas of knowledge and skills that need to be offered to young people, and which will be useful for successfully managing their future in a changing world. The prevailing theoretical approach is an anthropological cultural approach with interdisciplinary contacts.

Key words: interpersonal communication, Internet, computerization, intercultural communication, interdisciplinary contacts.
