Mechanisms of functioning of historical consciousness in the space of social

In modern society, the phenomenon of turning to the historical past plays a large role in the development of social processes. This phenomenon is actively reflected in the framework of historical consciousness. In the context of globalization, historical consciousness increasingly regulates the direction and flow of sociocultural and socio-political processes. Moreover, historical events, the historical past is the starting point of the dynamics of the development of events in public life and the individual existence of individual subjects of the socio-historical process. The absence of a specific border and the blurring of the configuration of historical consciousness is determined by the historicity of all objects and phenomena of social life, a peculiar temporal blurring and vagueness of their existence.

Key words: society, history, historical consciousness, historical past, socio-historical process, historical events, social processes, human activity.
