

PEDAGOGY

Nataliya V. Omelaenko

(Tyumen industrial university, Tyumen, Russian Federation)

Training of university students based on individual educational path

This article is devoted to the individual educational path of university students. The purpose of the work is to consider the key focuses of the implementation of an individual educational path. The article deals with the definition of an individual educational path, its structure, the main stages of its implementation, student's independent work, management of educational activities of students. The author came to the conclusion that an individual educational path significantly improves the possibility for self-education, helps to combine different self-paces study, improves knowledge of the subject and integrate them into the professional sphere. The applying of this learning technology allows the university professor to individualize the teaching of students, take into account their level of training and provide assistance in educational activities.

Key words: teaching a foreign language, personal approach, independent work, education management.

January 10, 2022
