

PHILOSOPHY

Denis A. Shkavrov

Southern Federal University, Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation

The study of the mechanisms of formation of patriotic attitudes among students: the role of the educational environment, recruitment methods, practical recommendations

The article considers the formation of patriotic attitudes that play a key role in the socialization of youth and the maintenance of national identity. It is shown that students, being an important social group, become the main object of application of various methods and approaches in this field. The special importance of the educational environment is emphasized, which can contribute to the formation or, conversely, the suppression of patriotic attitudes among students.

Key words: patriotism, patriot, belonging, Fatherland, students, cadets, meaning, life values, worldview, upbringing, education, ethics.

April 16, 2024