Features of the use of military vocabulary in the texts of the German media

The concepts of military vocabulary and military terminology are considered. It is shown that these concepts are differentiated: the concepts of military vocabulary include both special professional terminology and emotionally colored vocabulary. The spread of military vocabulary is quite widespread (officially-business, scientific, artistic texts, as well as common vocabulary). The terms of the air force are analyzed based on the material of military technical texts, as well as texts of the German press. It is noted that metaphorization is one of the important means in the nomination of military equipment. Special attention is paid to the vocabulary of unmanned aerial vehicles in modern German, multicomponent words with the Drohne lexeme are studied. The analysis of articles in modern German dictionaries devoted to unmanned aerial vehicles is carried out.

Key words: military vocabulary, military terminology, metaphorization, despecialization of professional vocabulary, unmanned aerial vehicles.
