Modern culture and problems of education

The problems of Russian education are analyzed. The article examines the state of modern cultural life, in the context of which educational processes are developing, and analyzes the causes of deterioration in the quality of education. It is noted that overcoming this situation is associated with an increased role of the humanities and the assimilation of the values of traditional culture. Ensuring processality in teaching requires consistency in the presentation of the studied material and a focus on developing critical and theoretical thinking based on previous knowledge.

Key words: culture, education, educational process, humanities, cultural values, innovations and traditions.
