Simulation of religious practices in the space of the modern “global village”

A conceptual analysis of changes in the state of religion and religious practices during the existence of modern postmodern civilization in the environment of the “global village” is presented. It is shown that in the conditions of a "global village" a person makes an evolutionary transition from a “Homo Sapiens” to a “Homo Ludens”, since the impact of media and mass culture on objective reality fundamentally transforms existence, plunging a person into a state of endless game in simulation.

Key words: “global village”, archaic practices, “Homo Ludens”, “Homo Deus”, Dataism, simulation, postmodern.
