

PHILOSOPHY

Polina A. Verevskaya

(Don State Technical University, Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation)

Features of informatization of educational process management

This article discusses the features of informatization of the educational management process, the problems associated with the introduction of information technologies and the use of information resources. The prospects and risks of informatization of educational process management are assessed.

Key words: information, informatization of management, educational process, information technologies, information resources.

December 12, 2025
